News update Harborough

It has been another busy month for Harborough officers with some great results for us to share:

A Section 59 ticket (for driving in an anti social manner) was issued to a person causing anti social behaviour (ASB) by riding his motorbike around Coventry Road. This means if he is found to be doing this again his bike can be taken away from him.

A prolific shoplifter in Market Harborough has been sentenced to 12 weeks in prison for two offences committed in the town centre.

A distraction burglar has been charged with a number of offences, they have pleaded guilty and have subsequently been remanded into custody awaiting sentencing.

A young person who threatened a man with a gun during a night out in Market Harborough has been sentenced to six months in prison.

News update Harborough

We would like to make people aware of our Share The Road campaign which focusses on anyone that uses the roads and encourages everyone to treat each other respectfully.

The aim is to ensure that anyone in Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland that uses the road, for any purpose is kept safe.

Blue light co-location

Ambulance Crews have now moved into Market Harborough Police Station.

They are sharing facilities in the first 'blue light co-location' scheme of its kind in Leicestershire.

Work has taken place in the car park to accommodate ambulance vehicles and internal building work has been undertaken to accommodate staff.

News update

The past month has been the usual for policing—extremely varied with no two days the same!

The stealing of sheep and subsequent butchery is something that is currently sadly very topical within Leicestershire, Northamptonshire and Warwickshire.

Harborough staff have been acting as an intelligence link between the three forces and we have also been actively involved in enforcement and prevention efforts.

We have deployed staff to work with our neighbouring forces and the rural community have been happy to have us!

Visit to Police HQ

Leicestershire Police had a new chief for the morning as 'super fan' Jason was invited to our HQ by Chief Constable Simon Cole.

This came about because Jason spoke to some of our officers in the village where he lives and patrols in his kit serving the community—he can often be seen litter picking, Jason was provided with the hot seat and the cap and briefed the Chief on what matters to him!

After that, a tour of some of our specialist departments was arranged which both he and his family seemed to really enjoy. Jason thanked us in the best way possible by bringing some cakes in for the team to enjoy!
